Bricks & rocks found at Hennepin County Government Center

October 24, 2011 (Minneapolis) – OccupyMN has been conducting a demonstration on the Hennepin County Government Plaza since October 7, 2011. The Hennepin County Sheriff's Office supports the First Amendment rights of residents on county property, while protecting the free use of government buildings by the public and employees. The Sheriff's Office maintains public safety for everyone who uses the Government Center -- including those who work, visit, and demonstrate on the property.

Since October 5, the Hennepin County Sheriff's Office has been meeting daily with organizers from OccupyMN. In each meeting, the rules have been explained. As always, conduct on county property that violates county policy, Minneapolis city ordinance or state law is not allowed. Tents are prohibited due to the public safety risks posed by such structures.

From the start of the OccupyMN demonstration, October 7, 2011, through Sunday, October 23, 2011, the Sheriff's Office personnel costs have been approximately $200,080 ($128,780 in overtime pay and $71,300 in regular pay).

Since the demonstration began on October 7, seven people have been issued trespass notices. When an individual has been issued a trespass notice, the individual is prohibited from returning to the Government Center for a year.

In addition to the trespass notices, the following is a list of incidents related to the demonstration from October 7, 2011 – October 24, 2011:
